PLAY BALL!

Edwards FCU proudly sponsors the Lancaster Jethawks and we were honored to host the Jethawks' Military Appreciation Day T-shirt Giveaway on Saturday, May 23rd. The first 1,000 attendees to the game received a free "United We Stand" t-shirt with the Edwards FCU logo on the back! Also, our very own CEO, Stan Turner, and Board Chairman, Kim Dunham, were awarded the honor of throwing out the ceremonial first pitch of the game! Everyone had a great evening filled with baseball, food & fun! Thanks to everyone who joined us at the game!

Congratulations to one of our own!

Beth Boone, an employee here at Edwards FCU, was awarded the prestigious Volunteer Excellence Award at the Edwards Air Force Base's Annual Volunteer Recognition Ceremony held on April 28th this year. Beth has been an employee of Edwards FCU for 30 years and a valuable member of the Edwards team.

Volunteers support as many as 33 different organizations on Edwards AFB. Each year one individual is chosen to receive the Volunteer Excellence Award for long time volunteer contributions, which can only be awarded once in a lifetime. The contributions made by the awardees demonstrate a positive impact on the military base and surrounding community.

This year's winner, Beth Boone, has given 4,642 hours of service to the Edwards community. She has contributed to the Air Force Aid Society's Bundles for Babies program by knitting over 245 receiving blankets for new and expectant parents over the last 13 years. Beth has mentored new mothers, served as treasurer at her church, organized numerous clothing drives in support of the homeless and disadvantaged families. She has also volunteered to help with the Desert High Scorpion Robotics team as well as taken on numerous jobs at school such as running the snack bar at sporting events. She continually supports the success of the Edwards community and the Edwards FCU team here.

Her Edwards FCU family is very proud of Beth and her accomplishments. Way to go, Beth!

Mobile Account Alerts

Have you ever gone to check out at a store, pull out your card to pay and then find out the transaction won't go through? If you have, you know how frustrating and embarrassing this situation can be. Luckily Edwards FCU has the technology to help you avoid these mishaps in the future. The best part is it's a totally free service!

How to do it:

Edwards FCU makes it very easy to set up account alerts through the website. Start by logging in to your secure online account through our website; www.edwardsfcu.org. Under "My Accounts" listing, there is a phone icon for "Manage mobile alerts." Click the link and the text and email options will display. Now it's just a matter of clicking a few boxes and "Save Changes." Easy!

You have flexibility in how you receive alerts and what type of messages you receive. For example, you can choose if you want an update for your credit card or deposit accounts, or both. Notifications can be received by phone text message or email address. There are a number of triggering events you can elect to be message generators. Common options are; having a message sent when your checking account drops below a certain dollar amount, weekly balance updates, large withdrawal notices or payment reminders.

Can Help You

You even have the option of sending us text messages to complete a transfer of funds or receive important balance information. Just text a short command to 454545 and you will quickly receive the information you want.

Here are some of the requests you can make with Text Message Banking:

- BAL — Current and available balances for a primary account you designate
- LAST — The last five transactions in your primary account
- BAL ALL — Current balances for all the accounts you have with us
- TRANS — Transfer funds to your primary account
- STOP — Cancel the Text Message Banking service

We Appreciate You!

Thank you to all our members who joined us for our 5th Annual Membership Appreciation Day. We enjoyed seeing all of you. Our document shredding service was another success with 3,480 pounds of paper shredded, which is the equivalent of saving 29.58 trees. The day was filled with food, fun and prizes. We look forward to seeing all of you next year!

As most of you already know, Edwards Federal Credit Union can be joined by anyone who lives or works in the Antelope Valley community. This is your community, and we all value being a part of the AV, which is a very special place with very special people.

As a responsible member of our community, we know that we cannot just "take" from our community, but we also need to "give back" to others. That is why we promote and encourage employees to support community charity organizations of their choice. As a company, EFCU does participate in several charitable events throughout the year.

As for me, I am involved in the AV Board of Trade, the Civ-Mil support group, the Lancaster West Rotary Club, the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce and Central Christian Church. What about you?

What are you doing to serve the community in which you live? There are many fine organizations that could use some help such as Special Olympics, Boys and Girls Club, Grace Resource Center, and many more. I would encourage you to become active as a volunteer, and spend time and money (if you can) helping others. The rewards far outweigh the costs.

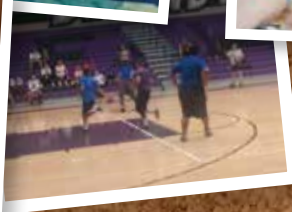

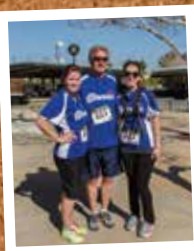

OK, so now you have read this article. I hope you do something about it. Your community will appreciate it.

See you at the Credit Union,

Stan Turner
